President's Message

We are enjoying the early days of March in Stillwater. I bet many of us are thinking about flowers and blooming plants and all that spring brings. There have been some warm days, then winter again, then spring again! Welcome to Oklahoma. When I walk across our beautiful campus, I see students who are also anticipating spring. Some will be finishing their first year as a college student and are knowledgeable and settled in by now. Others are anticipating the next step, which may include a first job or more school. What a wonderful time of year!

Your Emeriti Association Council met on February 26. One item of interest was a review of our recently renewed agreement with the OSU Alumni Association. Ann Caine, President of the Alumni Association, is a pleasure to work with. The agreement provides our Emeriti Association a suite and a work office on the second floor. One thing we provide in return is support by providing Emeriti Ambassadors for special events such as Homecoming, football game tailgate events, commencement, and a few others. Thanks to all of you who have served as Ambassadors in past years. Look for opportunities coming this year.

At the writing of this message, I am anticipating our next Monday Night Dinner (MND) on March 11. Our speaker will be Irish Journalist, Declan Bredin. I understand Declan's career has spanned many momentous events, and we will enjoy his storytelling. Thanks to Bob Graalman and Priscilla Gerfen for arranging this event. I think you will enjoy this unique guest speaker. Of course, we also have a wonderful meal scheduled. See you at our MND!

Respectfully,

Mike Woods, President
