Information About Monday Night Dinner Program on April 1

New York City based guest director/choreographer, Ann Cooley, a 2019 artist in residence in OSU's Theatre Department, will be one of the guest speakers for the April 1 Emeriti dinner. Along with other faculty and student performers from the Department of Theatre, she will highlight preparation for the OSU spring musical, Rogers and Hammerstein's Oklahoma! to be presented April 25-28 in the Vivia Locke Theatre at the Seretean Center for the Performing Arts.

Director/Choreographer, Ann Cooley, and Musical Director, Megan Barth Argo, are working with a cast of nearly 40 students, faculty, and Stillwater residents of all ages. Dreams and plans for the production began last summer and for the last seven weeks has been coming alive on stage here at OSU. Oklahoma! was the first musical written by the team of Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein II and is based on the 1931 Lynn Riggs' play, Green Grows the Lilacs.

Ann is excited to help create a production true to its red dirt roots in 1906. She hopes to stay true to the original intent of the writers, creating a tale of hope and love in an advancing and healing America, while foretelling a bright future. Emeriti members will be able to learn about what goes into a student production like this and hear a song or two!

OSU Emeriti Association Web Page to Change

After more than four years of using the current Web page format, OSU is changing to a new content management system (changing from Drupal to Omni), which means the Emeriti Association Web page will need to be revamped. If you have any suggestions for the improvement of the content of the current Web page that can be incorporated into the new Web page, please contact Zane Quible <zquible@okstate.edu>. Our goal is to make the new page as user friendly and helpful as possible.

Retiree Information From HR: (Provided by Amy Hoy, Retirement Specialist, HR)

Clarification Regarding the Automatic Monthly Payment of Your Bursar's Account:

Many OSU retirees use the automatic payment process to settle their monthly Bursar's account to which their Medicare Supplemental Insurance, Medicare Part D Insurance, etc. are charged. According to the Bursar's Web site, "If your bill amount is more than the maximum amount you allow, no automatic payment will be made for that bill." To avoid a delinquency in the payment of your Bursar's account (recall that the amounts charged to your Bursar's Account likely increased on January 1, 2019) you need to make sure the limit you have set on your account is sufficient to cover the full amount of your monthly charge. To check on the limit you have set on your account or to increase the limit, click here for the instructions to access and update the limit you have set on your Bursar's Account. You also need to assure the length of your stated payment options under "Payment Options" has not expired. You have two choices: (1) set the month/day/year on which your automatic payments are to end; or (2) set the number of months you want your automatic payments to be made. Your Bursar's Account will reject your automatic payment when your stated end date has been reached. Some retirees set their monthly maximum amount allowed to be withdrawn from their bank account as high as $2000-$3000 and the length of time for automatic payments to end in 2035, for example. The Bursar's Office will never remove more from your bank account than the amount of your monthly Bursar's statement. Upon the death of the OSU retiree or the retiree's spouse whose insurance is processed through the Bursar's account, HR needs to be notified immediately to avoid an additional (and unnecessary) monthly insurance charge.
